

Fifth Annual Carnegie Mellon Conference on the Electricity Industry

CALL FOR PAPERS – SAVE THE DATE

SMART GRIDS

Tuesday-Wednesday, MARCH 10-11, 2009

- Using the grid to incent and manage demand response
 - Integrating the volatility of wind and solar generation
 - Developing a cost-effective investment plan: Where should the first dollars go?
 - Determining how to gain flexibility
 - Providing incentives to investors for upgrading the grid
 - Establishing ways to use the transmission grid to its full capacity
 - Giving customers the reliability they want – and are willing to pay for
-

Submit abstracts or questions to:

Professor Marija Ilic

Depts. of Electrical & Computer Engineering and Engineering & Public Policy milic@ece.cmu.edu (cc: cbauerle@ece.cmu.edu)

and

Professor Lester Lave

University Professor and J. Higgins Chair
Tepper School of Business
lave@cmu.edu

TIMELINE:

November 1, 2008 – Begin submitting abstracts

January 31, 2009 – Abstracts due

February 15, 2009 – Notice of paper acceptance

March 1, 2009 – Submit presentations and/or electronic versions of papers